WARMLY WELCOMED.

The California "Spike Celebrators" in Oregon.

FESTIVITIES AT PORTLAND.

Speech by "High-Joint" Williams on the Benefits to be Derived from the New Road.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SALEM, Or., December 19.—At 9 o'clock this morning the California and Oregon excursionists, who had been present at the last spike ceremonies at Ashland and who passed the night in their sleeping car after their arrival last night, were met by a committee of citizens and representatives of the Oregon State Capital and escorted to the Capitol building. The hall of the House of Representatives had been chosen for the reception of the Californians, where the speech of welcome was delivered. All the arrangements were perfect in detail for the accommodation of the visitors. When they had been seated the doors were thrown open and the main floors and galleries were quickly filled by the people of the city.

PENNOYER STEPS TO THE FRONT.

Governor Pennoyer made a short address, welcoming the California delegates again, and dwelling upon the mutual advantages to the two States of the completion of the through railroad.

Charles Crocker was introduced, but he declared that he could only reiterate what he had already said of his appreciation of the magnificent welcome accorded the representation of railroad and Southern people. He said that it was one of the proudest moments of his life when he was able to witness the last scene of the railroad connection between Portland, San Francisco and the South, and it probably represented the final and crowning act of his railroad career. He expressed the view that the advantages resulting from the completion of the North and South line would be more thoroughly appreciated as years went by, and both States would witness a rapid development of their material interests in consequence of it.

MUNICIPAL GREETING.

Mayor Ramsey, of Salem, extended a welcome to the city in a brief address, while Mayor Davis, of Oakland, Cal., responded and dwelt particularly upon the industries and products of Oregon and California, contending that they were essentially different, and an opportunity for exchange would be natural and possible between the two States by reason of the completion of the road.

CONGRATULATORY SPEECHES

Were made by J. H. Albert, President of the Board of Trade of Salem; Mayor Gregory, of Sacramento; G. H. Sanderson, President of the Board of Trade of San Francisco; Frank M. Pixley and Colonel John P. Irish, of San Francisco. The train was then boarded for Portland and left the city shortly after 11 o'clock.

AT PORTLAND.

An Enthusiastic Reception—Some Eloquent Addresses.

PORTLAND, Ogn., December 19.—When the first train to pass the Siskiyou mountains and having on board the official guests representing the State of California, steamed into East Portland this afternoon, there was a greeting of steam whistles from the steamers in the Willamette river and the factories, which line the river bank, while the clanging of fire bells added to the clamorous welcome. There was a crush of people and carriages at the station, and when the coaches were once depleted, their occupants were conducted to carriages, and at once proceeded across the bridge into Portland, making a tremendous crush in and about the Esmond House, where the visitors are to be quartered during their stay. The Portland reception committee took charge of the Southerners after leaving Salem, presenting each one with a card of credentials, which extended to them the courtesies of the city, including hotel, parlor and carriage service. A formal reception of visitors occurred at the Mechanic's Pavilion to-night, where an audience of 6000 was assembled. Hon. Geo. H. Williams, formerly Attorney-General of the United States made the introductory speech of welcome.

WILLIAMS' WORDS OF WELCOME.

After dwelling upon the task of the completion of the road, he said: "Blood has been spilled upon a hundred battle fields to create and continue a Federal Union, but now the age of steam and iron has come to give us powerful and peaceful agencies to secure and confirm the sacrifices and triumphs of patriotism. Prophesy, in its hopeful imagery, has conceived of a possible time when the sword and spear would be beaten into a ploughshare and pruning hook, but the period has actually arrived when the soldier surrenders to the engineer and the rush of artillery is supplanted by the rattle of the railway train. To paraphrase a poetical expression, I may say that the lever of the locomotive in the hands of one entirely fit is

MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD.

Many happy influences are at work to consolidate the American Union, but the railway and telegraph systems of the United States are more powerful than all the other influences combined. State sovereignty though not dethroned, sits with iron bands upon its arms, with the lightning of the telegraph playing around its head and it may be said that our country has no north nor south, east nor west. Steam power tramples under its hot feet all sections and divisions of the country. The New England factories and the cotton fields of the South are at each other's doors, and New York and San Francisco are co-operative members of a municipal union, as well as competitors in trade. No people in the United States are more indebted to the railroads and telegraph for prosperity and happiness than the people of the Pacific coast."

HE REVIEWS THE PAST.

Judge Williams dwelt at considerable length upon the history of the great railroads on the Pacific Coast, beginning with the California Central in 1863, and sketching the several transcontinental lines in Oregon and California. Then he gave a brief epitome of the slow progress of railroads in Oregon, and spoke of the pleasures and benefits to be derived from the completion of the Oregon and California road. He concluded: "Could some one, gifted with the vision of Moses from another Mount Pisgah, overlook these two States, he would see a land whose riches and beauty beggar the fanciful descriptions of romance and poetry, a land whose mountains teem with gold and silver whose bosom is variegated with orange groves and vineyards, wheat fields and meadows, flocks and herds, and the grandeur of whose scenery is the wonder and

ADMIRATION OF THE WORLD.

Heaven has fixed the elements of our future greatness, the softness of our climate, the silver of our mines, the fertility of our soil and the accessibility of our ports, into which the winds of the Pacific are bound to waft the wealth of the Orients and Indies. Representative men of California are here to-day to inaugurate this new order of things. They have to celebrate a great commercial event and visit their new relations. We are here to meet them to show our appreciation of their kindly presence, to extend to them our hospitalities, and it has been made my duty on the behalf of our people to do this, in the performance of which I take great pleasure to give each one and all of these distinguished gentlemen a cordial and hearty welcome to the city of Portland."

CROCKER RETURNS THANKS.

Crocker was then introduced and was handsomely received by the great audience. He created great enthusiasm by the exhibition of the gold spike which symbolized the completion of the new road. He reiterated his former expressions as to the warmth of the reception accorded by the cities of Oregon.

General N. B. Chapman, of Red Bluff, followed in a short address upon the new relations of Oregon and California, resulting from the new rail connection.

District Attorney Bruener, of Sacramento, spoke briefly of the pioneers of the coast and the work they had accomplished, and through whose efforts the present great project had been made possible.

COL. IRISH ORATES.

Irish of San Francisco contended in a short speech that rapid transit had afforded a proper opportunity for the rapid development of the Pacific Coast. He spoke of the arable area of California and suggested that when California once had a population of 5,000,000 people which would be an accomplished fact within a few years, that the State would call upon Oregon for all she could spare of her wheat and other products of her soil. He paid a high tribute to Henry Villard, the mention of whose name waked hearty cheering.

ROGERS' OPINIONS.

John P. Rogers, of San Francisco spoke upon the topic of higher education on the Pacific coast. He suggested that apart from the material development of the Pacific coast, the encouragement of educational advancement was of paramount importance. He spoke of the university to be established at Palo Alto, by Leland Stanford as the most important of the enterprises affecting the future of Calafornia that is possible to contemplate.

Mr. Frank M. Pixley was called for, but only appeared to excuse himself, having lost his voice by repeated speaking.

The meeting then closed.

To-morrow the visitors will take a run up the Columbia to The Dalles on the steamer Multnomah, and will start for the south on Wednesday.

"WILL NOT HURT THEM."

What the Navigation Company Thinks of the New Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—General Manager Holcomb, of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, left for Portland this afternoon on the new California and Oregon line. In an interview to-day he said, "We will run the same number of steamers as before. We depend on freight more than passengers, who do not pay running expenses. I don't think that the new railroad hurts us, as Oregon is developing rapidly and there is room for both. With the Southern Pacific the new arrangements about freight goes into effect January 1st. The reduction of freight on our steamers will not be much, as the freights now are very low. This is an agreement and not a pool. It is not opposed to the Inter-State Commerce law."

TIRED OF THE UNION JACK.

Another Deserter from the English "man-of-War Triumph.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—A. W. Smith, a fireman on the English war ship Triumph, escaped to-day. He was given leave to come on shore with a number of others, but did not return with them.

James Briggs, the sailor who recently deserted from the Triumph, was to-day shipped on the whaling bark Eliza by boarding masters, but he was rescued from his position there by half a-dozen sailors, who went to the house and took him away by absolute force.

Scale Bug in the N. C. B.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—The annual report of Horticultural Commissioner Boggs, of Napa, for the Second District of California, states that there is room for improvement in this and the adjoining districts. Fruit pests are allowed to increase through public indifference, especially about Napa City, where the fluted scale abounds.

Promoted.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—Mr. Kentaro, Japanese Consul, returns from Japan by the incoming steamer. The San Francisco Consulate becomes a Consulate-General, and Kentaro will fill the position.

NATIONAL NEWS.

Important Business Before the Senate.

STANFORD'S BILL FILED.

Senator Pugh's Opinions on the Tariff and Taxation Questions.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, December 19.—The Senate Judiciary Committee held a meeting to-day, at which the nomination of Lamar was taken up. His political record was discussed. The hour for the meeting of the Senate arrived before the subject was exhausted and further consideration was referred to a sub-committee, consisting of Edmunds, Hoar and Pugh.

IN THE SENATE.

Among the papers presented to the Senate, to-day, was a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury with a report of Special Agent Temple on the condition of affairs on the Seal Islands, Alaska. Referred to Committee on Foreign Relations.

A memorial from Utah, asking admission into the Union as a State, was referred to the Committee on Territories.

GOOD NEWS.

Among the bills reported favorably from the committees and placed on the calendar was one granting to the State of California five per cent of the net proceeds of the cash sales of her public lands.

The President's message and accompanying documents were referred to the Committee of Finance.

AMONG THE BILLS INTRODUCED

Were the following: To prohibit the manufacture and sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia; to divide the State of Nebraska into two judicial districts; and to annex a portion of Montana to Idaho.

Senator Cullom's proposition to annex a portion of Montana to Idaho, cuts off Beaver Head and Missoula counties from the former, joining them to the latter.

Senator Manderson introduced a bill granting pensions to Union war-prisoners who served more than sixty days in Southern prisons.

Sherman introduced a bill that pensioners on the roll for loss of limbs receive arrears of pension from the date of disability.

Senator Stewart introduced a bill for a Chief Justice and two associates at Washington, with jurisdiction over the contested land cases and private land claims in Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado, and with a right of appeal to the justice from the Land Commissioner.

THE UNDERVALUATIONS QUESTION.

The Senate Finance Committee reported favorably of the sub-committee's bill respecting the undervaluations. It consists of twenty odd sections, and practically codifies the system of invoice entry of appraisement and assessment imports. It creates a general appraiser's tribunal with dignity equal to the United States Circuit Court Judges. The warehousing period is extended from one to three years. Duty rates are uniform for the same class of goods.

REYNOLDS' CLAIM RECOGNIZED.

The Secretary of War sent a report to the Senate respecting the claim of John R. Reynolds, formerly a Mississippian, recommending the payment of about $17,000 for property taken during the war from his plantation near Natchez, the Government agent having reported favorably on the claim.

PUGH SPEAKS ON THE TARIFF.

Pugh offered a resolution that the Senate concur in no joint session resolution for a final adjournment of Congress until after the passage of laws tending to reduce the tariff and internal taxes. The Senator addressed the Senate on the subject, saying in substance as follows: He had never heard any valid reason why whisky drinkers should be relieved from the payment of this tax and why the revenue which it yielded should be extorted by tariff from consumers of the necessaries of life. He knew no better use to which whisky could be applied than to the production of the $90 000 000 revenue necessary to pay pensions and the interest of the war debt instead of extorting that amount from the harmless consumption of imported articles.

AS A GENERAL COMPROMISE

He would repeal the internal tax on tobacco for the reason that tobacco was an agricultural product, and let the tax on whisky stand for future consideration. He would vote for no duty on any article manufactured in the United States that would cripple any home industry. Both the Republican and Democratic parties had promised to reduce the income to the wants of the Government. It was trifling for the Republicans to charge upon the Democratic party the blame of the failure to reduce the tariff. This Congress would not adjourn until such a change was made in the revenue taxes that would stop the flow of money from the people into the national treasury beyond the needs of the government. He would

PUT ON THE FREE LIST

Chemicals and wool of all low grades and salt, and he might be willing to add other articles. There should be no mistake as to what the President believed to be the paramount duty of Congress. There was not a single instance in the message that was not truth. At the close of Pugh's remarks the resolution was ordered to lie on the table.

Blair gave notice that he would to-morrow ask the Senate to proceed to the consideration of the educational bill.

THE HOUSE.

Bayard's Report Regarding the Exhibitions Submitted.

WASHINGTON, December 19.—The President to-day sent to Congress the reports of Secretary Bayard in relation to the invitation from Her Britannic Majesty's Government to participate in the International Exhibition to be held at Melbourne in 1888, to celebrate the centennial founding of New South Wales. The Secretary recommended that the invitation be accepted, and the sum of $50,000 be appropriated to defray the expenses.

A commission from the United States also has been invited to appoint delegates to the International Exposition of Labor to be held at Barcelona, Spain, next year.

THE COMMITTEE ON RULES.

The Speaker announced the appointment of the Committee on Rules as follows: Randall, Mills, Reid and Cannon.

OCEAN COMPETITION.

A Line of Japanese Steamers on the Tapis.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—W. H Talbot, Foreign Secretary of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Imperial Japanese Steamship Company, arrived in this city from Yokahama by the City of Sydney to-day. Mr. Talbot is en route to England via Mexico, and the purpose of his journey is to make suitable arrangements for the establishment of a line of Japanese steamers to run between Yokahama and the Mexican ports of Guaymas and Mazatlan. It was learned to-day from a gentleman, from whom Mr. Talbot has been making enquiries, that during his stay in this city, if arrangements can be brought to a successful issue, the Japanese Company will run a line of four of the largest steamers with tea and other products

TO SAN DIEGO,

Mazatlan and Guaymas. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad officials will be seen by Mr. Talbot, and their co-operation asked, on the establishment of the new route, to carry teas to Eastern points. If these negotiations prove satisfactory and the privileges to be asked from the Mexican Government be accorded, the Japanese agent will proceed to England to contract for the building of the new steamers. At the present time Japanese tea exporters are banding together to control the entire exports, and they will patronize their countrymen's steamers exclusively.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

Surrender of Vorce, the Colorado Desperado.

DENVER, December 19.—A telegram from Deer Trail, Col., announces that the outlaw Vorce, who recently killed Officer Holling worth and escaped last Friday, rode to a sheep ranch, where he demanded shelter, which was given him. A number of ranchmen, learing of Vorce's whereabouts, surrounded the dugout. Vorce's horse remained standing near the door, ready for instant use. Early on Saturday a man with Vorce's hat and coat on

RUSHED FROM THE DOOR

Toward the house, and the men who were behind the corral fired and killed him. It is now learned that the victim was the man whom Vorce had forced to put on his clothes and run toward the house for the purpose of learning whether or not there was any danger. The Sheriff of Denver has sent a special train, bearing half a dozen officers, to Deer Trail, with instructions to take Vorce, dead or alive.

LATER—CAPTURED.

A Deer Trail special says that the Sheriff's posse last night succeeded in setting fire to the dug-out in which Vorce was barricaded. The desperado came out and surrendered, and will be brought to Denver to-night.

THE DUTY ON WOOL.

Vigorous Protest Against its Reduction.

SACRAMENTO, December 19.—The convention of wool growers to-day adopted resolutions condemning any effort of reduction of the tariff on wool, and urging upon Congress the necessity of retaining the present rate of duty.

The resolutions set forth that the present rate should be maintained on account of the depressed state of the wool growing interest, and the fact that Australia, the principal competitor in the American wool market, has for years prohibited the introduction into that country of American merino sheep.

AGITATION IN UTAH.

SALT LAKE, December 19.—The Territorial Wool Association holds a meeting on January 9th, for the purpose of advocating measures for protecting the wool growers and to defeat the reduction of the wool tariff.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 19.—Orders were made in the United States Circuit and District Courts to-day in the cases of over fifty Chinese women who arrived here recently, remanding them to the custody of the steamship company, to be taken back to China. The orders were made at the request of counsel for the women. The women are those who were detained by Collector Hagar on the ground that they were imported for immoral purposes.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

A Settler Forcibly Ejected in Spite of a Legal Injunction.

CRESCENT CITY, Cal., December 19.—Several days ago an injunction was served on Sergeant Laforet in command of the United states troops stationed at the mouth of the Klamath river, to prohibit him from tearing down the house of Settler John McKenzie, located on an island in the river. The injunction was disobeyed and the property destroyed. Judge Murphy, who issued the injunction, has issued a warrant for the arrest of Laforet for contempt of court and the sheriff has gone to arrest him.

DECLARED A DRAW.

Kilrain and Smith Try Issues in France.

A WELL-CONTESTED BATTLE.

Darkness Stops the Fight After 106 Rounds—Two Hours and a Half in the Ring.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

LONDON, December 19.—It is learned this afternoon that a fight between Kilrain and Smith has taken place on an island in the River Seine twenty miles from Rouen. Kilrain, with his trainer and a few friends, crossed the channel by a Dover boat. Smith, with his principal supporter and Jim Howes, crossed on Thursday. The sea that day was exceedingly rough and they suffered severely from seasickness, and did not reach Rouen until Friday. On Saturday both men met and shook hands. It was arranged that a steamer should be ready opposite to-day to convey the party to the grounds selected for the fight. Both men are in good condition. In London to-day the betting is three to one on Smith with no takers.

A REPORT FROM ROUEN.

ROUEN, December 19.—The fight has taken place and resulted in a draw after 106 rounds. The fight lasted two hours and a half and was then stopped on account of darkness. The contest is said to have been a splendid one. Kilrain showed superior science while Smith drew first blood.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

PARIS, December 19.—The party left the Paris-Rouen train at the village of Barshieres, whence they tramped across marshes and reached the river where there was a steam launch lying alongside the bank. The party included Lord De Clifford, Marquis of Queensbury, Sir Hugh Drummond, Hon. Mr. Sandys and Captain Lee Barber. The launch took all hands on board and steamed for the scene selected for the fight where an excellent ring was pitched. Kilrain fought at 184 pounds and Smith at 180. Smith's castor was thrown into the ring and was immediately followed by Kilrain's beaver.

THE FIGHT COMMENCED

At 2:10 P. M. There was a lively and energetic battle for the first three rounds, quick give and take, with close sparring. In the fourth Kilrain got in, giving Smith a smash on the ear which appeared to stun him. Wrestling formed the feature of a number of the succeeding rounds, and here Smith was no match for the American and had the worst of every fall. Kilrain each time coming down heavily on Smith. The fight was declared a draw. The men reached Paris at a late hour to-night.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

LONDON, December 19.—The international contest between Jake Kilrain, of Baltimore, and Jem Smith, of England, for the diamond belt and championship of the world, took place on the island of St. Pierre, in the river Seine, France, to-day, in the presence of about 100 persons. G. W. Atkinson, referee, performed his duties with satisfaction to all concerned. Smith was seconded by Jake Baldock and Jack Harper, and was attended by Jem Hawes and Dick Roberts. Kilrain was seconded by Charley Mitchell and Ned Donnelly and was attended by Charley Rowell. Messrs. Fleming and Harding acted as timekeepers and umpires. The fight was remarkable for the persistent wrestling of the men. In the tenth round Smith was knocked nearly senseless by

A TERRIFIC BLOW ON THE EAR.

Though Smith had the worst of the falls, he fought splendidly under great difficulties and was as fresh as Kilrain when darkness stopped the fight at 4:45. One hundred and six rounds were fought lasting six and one-half hours. The fight was declared a draw.

The betting was on Smith at the start, veering to Kilrain later. In the eighteenth round Kilrain hit Smith on the left ear causing a swelling the size of an egg, and knocking him down. Kilrain's right eye was closed. The fight varied until the fifteenth round, when Kilrain led with his right, knocking down Smith three times and being knocked down himself once. Smith's ear, swelling burst to his great relief. After the nineteenth round Smith's strength returned to him and he held his own. He had the best of the fight in the last six rounds, both men fighting as quickly and as strongly as at the start.

AFTER THE BATTLE

The referee ordered that the fight be resumed to-morrow, but later Smith and Kilrain expressed mutual respect for each other, and swore eternal friendship. They agree to consider the fight a draw, and have pledged each other to fight Sullivan. The general opinion is that the fight was the gamest heavy weight contest of the generation. Smith's second chose for him a corner which would give Smith the benefit of the fighting with his back to the sun, which was shining brilliantly.

A PROHIBITION MANIFESTO.

Vigorous Call to all Interested in Temperance Work.

CHICAGO, December 19.—The National Prohibition Committee has issued a call to a National Convention at Indianapolis June 6, 1888. The call says: "All citizens who believe that the traffic in intoxicating drinks is a national disgrace and a national scourge; that it is a destitute producing power, robs labor, destroys capital, breeds lawlessness and festers Anarchy; that it offers restraint, seeks to, and already to an alarming extent does, dominate in municipal, State and national governments; that it threatens the safety of our homes and perpetuity and ought forever to be prohibited; who believe that to abolish the saloon will in a great measure abolish poverty, assist in solving the labor question, purify politics and add to the solidity of our institutions; who believe that this desirable reform needs for its conformation the respectable agency of a political party clearly committed thereto as a matter of principle; who favor the general and progressive system of popular education; who would amend our laws so as to secure greater purity of the ballot; who stand for free ballot and fair counts for the white man of the North and the black man of the South; who would foster our agricultural interests; who believe that the ballot in the hands of women will be the death-knell of the liquor trade, in short, all citizens who are agreed upon the wisdom and necessity of political action in order to secure the overthrow of the rum power are requested to unite in sending delegates to the convention.

MORE REPRESENTATIVES WANTED.

The Executive Committee suggests that additional delegates, to be known as provisional delegates, be selected in the States, Territories and the District of Columbia, on the basis of one delegate to each thousand for prohibition or the major fraction thereof as in the case of the last general election. A full list of the names and the addresses of all the delegates are to be sent to Samuel Dickie, Chairman of the National Convention as soon as selected.

The O. K. Stables Destroyed By Fire at 3 O'clock this Morning.

At 3 o'clock this morning the discovery was made that the Occidental Stables on Main street, between Second and Third, were ablaze. Owing to the courtesy of T. C. Wren one of Harvey & Co.'s employes a HERALD reporter was soon on the scene, and elicited the following facts: The men employed about the building were awakened by cries of "fire," and proceeding hurriedly to the barn discovered that a number of the horse-stalls were already in flames. They did everything they could to empty the stables of the terrified animals, but in spite of their exertions four valuable horses were incinerated, one of them valued at $1,000, the property of G. Caufield who leases the stables from the Gassagne estate, another belonging to U. Wescott and two others used in the livery business. The total loss is estimated at over $10,000. At the hour of going to press the buildings in the rear are entirely gutted, and will be completely destroyed. There is no clue as to the origin of the fire, but it is believed to be incendiary.

DAILY HERALD.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Caused By Careless Handling of a Pistol.

A serious accident occurred at Hackberry, on the Atlantic and Pacific road, on December 16th. The westbound train was detained for a considerable time at that point. Some of the passengers amused themselves by shooting at a mark with pistols. One of them, thinking his pistol empty, was about to put it in his pocket when some of the bystanders asked to see it. As he was showing them how it worked it went off and the ball struck a young man named Charles McNaines, entering the body at a point a little below the stomach. He was taken on the train to Kingsman, where he was removed to a hotel and placed under the care of a physician. A contribution of about $50 was given by the passengers to aid in meeting his expenses. Mr. L. H. Reynolds, who had become acquainted with him on the train, remained with him. Mr. McNaines was going from his home in Chase, Kan., to meet a brother at a place about 100 miles north of Redding, Cal. The physician's opinion of the case is not yet known, but those who made the most careful examination of the wound think there is no reason to fear that it will prove fatal.

NEW CASES

To Come Before the Superior Court shortly.

David Hewes filed a complaint yesterday against the German Fruit Company, alleging that he had a contract by which the defendant agreed to purchase the plaintiff's crop of raisins at $1.40 per box. The complainant avers that the crop was cured and delivered according to the contract and the raisins received except 2905 boxes, which were refused. A judgment of $1200 is prayed for.

A petition for letters of administration was filed in the estate of William A. Spurgeon, by Granville Spurgeon. The property of deceased is situated near the town of Santa Ana and is valued at $5000.

THE BRADY CASE.

Still Dragging Along in the Court.

THE DEFENSE WORKING HARD

To Prove that Defendant was Somewere Else on the Day in Question.

At 10:45 o'clock yesterday morning the Brady investigation was resumed. Mr. Lewis S. Foster, being recalled, testified: I met Brady at 3:30 A. M on the 17th of November last at the police office. We went to Commercial street, stopped at a second-hand store and then went to another on Aliso street. We then went down Aliso to Los Angeles street. He told me to take up my station there and watch and see if any one entered Mar een's store. He said he had an engagement at 11 o'clock. I told him I had some business at the express office, and a short time before 11 o'clock he went with me and pointed out the office. (A receipt was introduced showing that on that date Mr. Foster placed in the express company's hands a package to be forwarded, and it being objected to half or more was spent in securing the original duplicate receipt.) Between 10 and 11 o'clock I was with Brady at the postoffice, which is near the Sentons block.

Cross examination—I came to Los Angeles on the 13th of November from Arizona. I became acquainted with Brady while he resided at Tucson. I have been in no business since here in this city. I went to see Brady on the morning of the 17th because he was an old friend of mine. He asked me to take a walk with him. He described some parties who he said he was looking for, and told me to keep a sharp watch for them. He showed me four doors on Arcadia street, and told me to watch them. About a quarter before 9 o'clock I saw Brady talking with a party on Alameda street. I first noticed a statement relative to the burglary in the Times on the morning of the 18th, which was Saturday. I remarked when I read it that I knew it was a lie, for I was with Brady up to almost 11 o'clock. I resigned my position as conductor on the Southern Pacific railroad in 1881 and went into the saloon business at Tucson,

MR. CHAS. E. GALT,

Being introduced and sworn, produced the books of Wells, Fargo & Co., which showed that the company received from M. Foster a sealed package for shipment November 17, 1887. I have no means of knowing what time of day the package was received.

An adjournment was then taken taken until 2:30 P. M.

Afternoon Session.

Ex-officer Moore—(Identified Mrs. Ackerman as the woman who had been introduced to him under another name by Mrs. Hester, whom he also identified). This introduction was after the burglary in the Sentous Block when Mr. Alford was present. I do not remember the hour, but believe it was on the 18th inst. No other persons were present, and soon after we left the Sentous Block. I do not remember what particular business I was there for. We were standing in the hall when this introduction took place. I have often been there as an officer with Officers Alford, Lemon and Methvin.

Ex-officer E. R. Alford testified—At present I have no occupation, but on the 17th of November I was a police officer in this city. I know Mrs. Hester, and have known her over two months. (Witness here identified Mrs. Ackerman as the woman who had been introduced to him by Mrs. Hester). I have conversed with Mrs. Hester about Brady. (Mr. Damron objected to this conversation being put in evidence, and stated that he was there to prevent any injustice being done to Mrs. Ackerman or Mrs. Hester. H. Gage in response pointed out that this was necessary not for impeachment, but to show that Mrs. Hester knew Brady. His Honor ordered the question to be stricken out),

Mrs. Hester knew Brady before November 1st. (Considerable discussion took place as to the next question, "How do you know it?" The witness said, "Mrs. Hester told me." It was near the door of Mrs. Hester's bed-room. Moore and Mrs. Ackerman were there at the time when the introduction took place. Mrs. Hester said, "Allow me to introduce you," and I said, "Pleased to meet you, madame" We were conversing with Mrs. Hester and Mrs. Ackerman about the arrest of Brady. Mrs. Ackerman went away shortly after, and Moore and I went into Mrs. Hester's parlor.

Chas. McCormick, proprietor of the Flag Cottage, recalled, and was taken into the witnesses' room by Gage to identify Mrs. Ackerman, and testified—I saw two ladies in the other room just now. I can't quite identify Mrs. Ackerman, as both the ladies have veils on. H. Gage here asked that both ladies be brought into the Court, but Damron asked that they might be allowed to remain in the Court during this witness's testimony, or at least Mrs. Ackerman, who was being attacked. His Honor thought the request of Mr. Damron could not be granted. Both ladies entered the court-room and raised their veils. I can't recognize either one of those ladies as ever being at Flag Cottage.

Mrs. Hester, recalled for purposes of impeachment, testified: I do not remember renting a room to Brady in October.

Ex-Officer Alford, recalled—I heard the conversation when Mrs. Hester said that she would scald Brady with hot water if he did not keep away. I have no feeling against Mrs. Hester. I have been at her house two or three times since I was a police officer, but went more frequently when I was an officer.

A recess was here taken till 11 A. M. to-day.

Placer County Citrus Exhibit.

There is an exhibit of Placer county citrus and deciduous fruits now open at No. 37 North Spring street, this city. Those curious to see the products of California raised five degrees of latitude north of us, should visit the exhibit. There will be maps and short addresses each evening for instruction on the locality and topography of the county. The citrus fruit speaks for itself. For a county that claims the third greatest number of growing orange trees in the list of citrus fruit counties, it is practically a terra incognita to most Eastern visitors.

The Placer County Board of Trade has complimented Los Angeles by sending its exhibit to our city rather than to San Francisco. They appreciate the fact that our city is now the center of travel and enterprise. Placer county contains 1400 square miles of territory, but little of which is settled, population only 17,000, taxes low, no bonded debt. The first prizes were received by Placer for citrus and deciduous fruits at the State Fair, and the Sacramento Citrus Fair in 1886 Since then the county has ranked among the first in the State for oranges, olives and deciduous fruits The C. P. R. R. runs 100 miles through the county, which extend from the Sacramento valley on the west to the State of Nevada on the east. The western portion of Placer county is only ten miles from Sacramento, the capital, and 100 miles from San Francisco.

A PROMISING TOWN.

Beautiful Glendora Still Forging Ahead.

Of the many promising towns in Southern California Glendora, of this county, is one of the most promising. Its situation is such, being 1200 (feet above the sea level,) that it has many attractions as a sanatarium. The climate is all that could be desired, and the situation of the town is such as to captivate the eye of the scenic artist. Glendora is at the terminus of the Santa Fe Railroad, who have constructed a depot much larger than in Los Angeles county outside of this city. A University to cost $50,000 is about to be erected. This will be a valuable addition to the buildings now there The next meeting and fair of the Pomological Society will be held in this enterprising burg in January. Glendora will by the pluck, industry and enterprise of her liberal citizens, soon become a city of note.

S. G. V. R. R. Ry.

Notice is hereby given to subscribers to the capital stock of the San Gabriel Valley Rapid Transit Railway that the second installment of ten per cent of their subscription will be due and payable on the 30th instant, at the company's office, 210 North Main street, Rooms 11 and 12.

H. A. UNRUH, Secretary.

The Alhambra Hotel

Is now open for the reception of guests. The hotel is located at Alhambra, seven miles from Los Angeles, on the S. P. R. R. Parties wishing to engage board and rooms for the winter can do so by addressing the manager, S. F. Perrigo.

The beautiful San Gabriel has more interesting features in its surroundings for the sightseers, tourists and homeseekers than can be found in any other park of the wide world. T. E. Rowan and Gilbert & Estudillo guarantee the above statement. Go and see them.

Coleman Flag brand of canned fruits is well and favorably known all over the Eastern States. Sold by all first-class grocers.

An Important Feature of Southern California.

The most charming hotel in Southern California is situated—much to the advantage of Los Angeles—at Santa Monica, and is called the Hotel Arcadia. Every advantage of ocean and land view has been grasped by the architect of this modern caravansary.

Its natural advantages are climatic and scenic. The days and nights are warm, the temperature changing but little in the twenty-four hours. On the ocean side of the hotel, in the sun rooms, the temperature is from 75 to 80 degrees. At present writing, on the land side, on the ranchos, it is from 67 to 72. Hundreds of people bathe daily in the open sea, the beach being one of the most celebrated surf beaches in America. The beach stretches for miles along the shore, and the drive on the beach, as well as to the canyons and along the hill sides, is picturesque and enjoyable.

The hotel itself is a model of comfort and elegance. We have but to mention a few of the advantages to give our readers an idea of its conveniences. It contain a steam elevator, ga , electric bells, hot and cold water, hot salt water baths in the house, surf bathing within twenty yards of the house, 6-0 feet of wide covered porches surrounding the house, as well as the sun porch which is a feature for invalids. Not an inside room in the house. The dining room and parlors overlook the ocean. The house is elegantly furnished and the service and table have no superior anywhere. It is indeed one of the few all round year re orts in the world.

Three trains by the Southern Pacific Railroad are run to and from Santa Monica daily, and at such hours as will accommodate persons who wish to do business in Los Angeles and enjoy the comforts of the above described locality of the Hotel Arcadia.

Duarte's Superior Advantages.

Noted for years as a resort for health, for growing choice oranges, for abundant water streams and equable temperature All the trains on C. C. R. R stop at station. Great chances for investment on town lots on foothill, or near railroad depot; also cheap acreage.

Go to the auction sale at Santa Ana Friday December 23d, and buy a lot for a Christmas present for your wife, brother, sister or mother-in-law.

Acreage in Bannister's addition to Santa Fe Spring is selling rapidly. Now is the time to buy, as the A., T. & S. F. and S. P. Railroads will be running trains through the tract by January next. Prices will be advanced soon. Will pay to investigate.

Our New Year Edition.

The New Year edition of the HERALD for 1888 will be the most complete publication of the kind yet issued in Southern California. It will contain a vast amount of statistics of our progress, and of descriptive articles of this section. The edition will be of mammoth proportions, and will afford the best medium for advertisers ever put before our people. The space is nearly all taken. Work on this edition will soon begin. It, therefore, behooves those who desire space, or given number of the issue to leave their orders at the desk in our business office at a very early day.

To Tourists.

New arrivals in the city cannot send back to their friends at the old home a more acceptable memento of their visit here than a copy of the ILLUSTRATED G. A. R. HERALD. A very small number remains on sale at this office.

Paternalism in Government.

One great feature of distinction set up by the young Republic of the New World to mark her departure from Old World methods of government, was that of independent manhood as against Paternalism. This is a natural outgrowth of the fundamental principle that the government is of the people, by the people and for the people. Men were put on manhood suffrage to govern themselves. To do this it was of the very essential necessity of the case that they should be men. It was clearly the intention of the framers of this government that there should be the very minimum of governing done. The people were left to manage their own affairs with the largest possible liberty, the least possible interference of the law. Before a community was qualified to vote in matters of National scope it was presumed to be able to deal with its own local affairs. And the individual was presumed to be capable of taking care of his personal interests before he should take part in legislating for the benefit of that aggregate body of individuals known as a community.

For three-quarters of a century this policy worked most admirably in the new Republic, and the results wrought out under it fully justified the wisdom of the founders of this Government. The very best result of it all was a stalwart manhood, which set Americans on a plane so far above the other peoples of the earth that they seemed worthy to be deemed sovereigns in very deed. This robust strength of character attacked the Titanic forces of savage nature and subdued them all to the scientific forces developed by an advanced and intelligent civilization. Before its sturdy blows the forests fell. Guided by its intelligent self-reliance the streams were made the servants of internal commerce; their cataracts were spanned by railroads; the great West was penetrated by these great highways of modern progress; on the vast prairies great cities were upbuilt; in the tangles of the forests villages were planted; the mines were opened and worked; waters were brought out of the snow-capped mountains to make fertile the plains of what was called the Great American Desert, and that waste was made to bloom with all the beauty of a garden. The unaided forces of a sturdy American manhood did all this, and by its productive power and fertile resources the country went on and prospered. Poverty was unknown in America. Bread riots were unheard of in all the length and breadth of the great continent. American labor was of that intelligent, self-reliant, manly type that it asked for no protection—it needed no protection. It put its hand to great enterprises and it accomplished all it put its hand to. It competed with the pauper hordes of that elder civilization, dwarfed, unprogressive and of a narrow intelligence begotten of ages of paternal protection. In those days we defied the paupers of Europe, and in spite of English competition, we mined our coal and plied our manufacturing avocations, and the laborer was worthy of better hire comparatively than he is to-day.

The policy devised by the Republican party and practiced for years has sapped the very sources of this fine independence and of this self-reliant intelligent manhood. The result is well illustrated in the shoemaker in San Francisco, who some time ago, complained of the depression ruling in his trade and said the only remedy was that the Federal Government should take charge of all the shoemakers and pay them fair wages every Saturday night. Right in the same line is the call of the Republican clubs which met the other day in New York. Their utterances would have been those of ill-informed tyros in economics, were it not that they were those of misleading and blatant demogogues. For had the President taken the extreme protective side of the issue they now espouse, then they would have been as loud, as Sophomoric and as demogogic in their clamor for a reform of the tariff. They now call for the extreme limit of pure Paternalism in the policy of the Federal Government. Not only harbors and rivers are to be improved, but more railroads are to be built; our mines are to be worked by Governmental aid; and reservoirs are to be built at National expense to fertilize the deserts. More railroads built at the instance of the government, means more lands alienated from the people's use, in order to build up a few more monopolies every member of which would be a Republican. Do the people agree to this? Not by any means. Opening mines and building reservoirs is not the province of a free government. Rivers and harbors are in the proper sphere for government attention. The public funds come from the pockets of the people. The tax on salt and sugar is paid by every, man, woman and child in America. That money should not be spent for the benefit of any class, or individual's benefit. Harbors and rivers are of National importance. Mines and reservoirs are not. Every man has a right to the fruits of his own industry. My fruit farm on the rich mesas of Los Angeles county should not be taxed to build a reservoir for the benefit of the fellow who tries to make a Nevada cactus patch productive. My Los Angeles property cost me between $50 and $500 an acre. His cost him as many cents. I am entitled to the full benefit of my purchase and he has nothing to expect from me. If the labor proposition is referred to, then if I am not taxed for the benefit of the sagebrush fellow, I can pay a better price for my labor than if I am so taxed. Los Angeles county employs more labor than all Nevada State. Let us pay our laborers good wages, if that is where your interest centers.

This is not a Free Trade article. It is a Fair Trade view. There are industries which need protection. But all industries should not be protected. The coal mining industry should not be so aided. The main objective in this paper is a plea for the least interference on the part of the Government in the business of the people. Let us repose our confidence in the sturdy manhood of the American people, whether they are laborers or whether they be employed in other pursuits. Let us have less of this puling dependence on the Government to take care of our private affairs.

UNCOMPLIMENTARY comment is not unknown to those who notice what Republican papers have to say of Mr. Cleveland. But the fact is most observable that the attacks made usually are to the effect that he was once a Sheriff in Buffalo, or that he lacks in powers of imagination. In attacking a magistrate on these lines little account is taken of the temper of the American people. Were Mr. Cleveland filling the position of hereditary ruler of some petty European Dukedom, his previous official position might be pertinently assailed. Were he drawing a royal solatium as Poet Laureate under some crown, the lack of fervid imagination might be properly made a charge against him. But as he is the Chief Magistrate of a great, free people, who are all sovereigns, the election of a man of the people to the chief honor in the nation is quite in keeping with the genius of our Institutions. And as his business is to deal with the dry details of public affairs, common sense stands him in far better stead than would an imagination so brilliant that its flashes of wit might be utilized to keep a blast furnace in fuel. It is just here a fatal mistake is made by such critics. Mr. Cleveland's reputation as Mayor of Buffalo had all to do with his election as Governor of the Empire State. He had shown that he had the genius of dealing wisely with public affairs, that his plodding attention to detail had enabled him to make timely recommendations touching the temporal interests of the public. Nor is he the only plain, commensense Democrat whose good judgement and close attention in just these lines has endeared him to the people. When we institute a line of comparison between our own worthy Mayor and the President of the United States, we are conscious of the high compliment Mr. Workman is paid; but he is deserving of it. Our Mayor in his annual message to the City Council which will be found in the HERALD to-day, avoids all flights of the imagination and confines himself to the plain, every-day affairs of the public, and he handles them in a direct and business-like manner. The terse and sensible document will well repay perusal. It will not be necessary for us to dwell on its main points or attempt to elucidate its policy. This is so plain that he who runs may read the significance of Mayor Workman's paper. It is in the line of good government, of honest economy and of progressive improvement.

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD, which is editorially torn up between the desire of one of its editors to break into Congress, and the stanch protection sentiment of its vicinage, assures its readers that the issue is not "between protection and free trade," and that the Democratic party does not favor free trade, but is firmly wedded to protection. It asserts that Mr. Cleveland stands squarely upon the Republican platform of 1884, and that there isn't much difference between the parties on this issue anyhow."—[San Diego Union.

Our esteemed contemporary should confine his mind to prevaricating about his little harbor, and let larger game alone, or he will tear his little brain to atoms by subjects above his capacity. If the Union does not know that Mr. Cleveland's position to-day is that occupied by Mr. Blaine and the whole Republican party in 1884, that journal's ignorance is even more crass than it gets the credit of being. But the Union makes another misstatement when it asserts we say there is not much difference between the parties on this issue. Misstatements are so in its line that perhaps when it only gets the tense of a verb wrong we should give it credit for being as near the truth as it can get. There is a difference. Blaine has given the word, and while directly opposed to the party platform of four years ago, the Union and all its sort takes up the cry and never knows it is inconsistent.

THE Record-Union is a bit persistent in its false statements that the HERALD has been guilty of misrepresenting the climate of the end of the State in which it is published. The fact is some time ago the up-country press set out on a most malignant mission of writing down this end of the State. The HERALD at once joined issue and spiked their guns. The Record-Union was one of the leaders in that unjust attack. We are not bound by any code to hush when they cry tace! But we have never printed an untrue statement about any section of the State. The Record-Union claims a climatic table of averages contradicts some of our statements. Such a claim, if not a conscious untruth, is an unconscious bit of stupidity. What we stated was that on a certain night the thermometer in many places in the so-called northern citrus belt went down to eighteen to twenty-six degrees above zero. Our authority is the Signal Service reports. Nor are the localities from which the reports came in the mountains. No monthly average of temperature will correct these facts. They are true. The Record-Union is very badly informed or studiously false.

The Los Angeles HERALD goes into ecstacies because the Chicago Tribune objects to Blaine's "tariff message." We pause to remind the HERALD that the Tribune is a free trade Republican paper, hence the objection. It must be borne in mind that we have free trade Republicans and protection Democrats.—[Pasadena Star.

All of which is not news here! But where did a Republican paper learn these things? It has appeared heretofore that only Democrats were at loggerheads on the Tariff. Some days ago another esteemed contemporary told us the same thing of the New York Times. It really begins to look as if there was a bit of dissention in the ranks of our opponents on this subject. But the Star fails to grasp the idea. The point is that the Chicago Tribune has been a strong Blaine organ until now. It is on the other side of the fence this trip.

PUBLIC welfare demands that the new Council at once proceed to inaugurate needed reform in several minor matters. Hereafter no building, large or small, should be allowed to be begun within the corporate limits of the city until a "building permit" has been procured from some official. If there is not such an office, create it and keep a record of all such permits. Then a full list of births and deaths should be insisted upon. Make it the duty of attending physicians to give information of births to the Health Officer, and punish every neglect of this duty. Where no physician is called in make it the duty of the parents to give the proper notice. In cases of death forbid the interment in any cemetery until a burial permit is produced, and make it a penal offense for any undertaker to serve where such a document is not produced.

THE HERALD desires to give a full account of the church services for next Sunday, which is also Christmas day. Clergy and choir masters will confer a favor by sending the data to this office at an early day.

Now, just get a package of Frese's Hamburg Tea, and use it as directed, and, my word for it, in a week you will feel like a new man and thank me for this advice. Yours, TOM.

DAILY HERALD.

This An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the wind blows from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wine-glas-fulls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and the circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as a protector after getting wet.

$5,000 Reward $5,000

For a better or more pleasant remedy for the cure of consumption, cough, asthma, croup, whooping cough, and bronchial troubles, than Green's Lung Restorer, Santa Abia, the abietine and mountain balm sough cure. THE SEWERS.

The Report of the Special Committee.

THE PLAN AS PROPOSED.

Messrs. Lambie and John E. Jackson Examine the Surveys of the City.

The following is the report of the special committee on sewers, presented at the City Council yesterday:

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles:

GENTLEMEN—At your request we have made an examination of the sewer system for the city of Los Angeles, as laid down on the accompanying map, to which reference is made. Commenced work on November 1st, 1887, the magnitude of the undertaking requiring the examination of every location on the ground, and in many instances the return to examine with a view to improve location or diminish the cost. We have gone into the details of construction, ascertaining the proper size, gradient and velocity of flow; also the quantities and cost of every item. We submit the following as our report: We are furnished with the following data by the City Engineer Mr. Fred Eaton. First, a contour map of the city of Los Angeles, drawn to scale of six hundred feet to one inch, on which is delineated the projected line of intercepting sewers and branches. Second, Profiles of the intercepting sewers and the various branches. These profiles showing grades of sewers and the configuration of the surface of the ground. Our report is based on the data and we assume that it is correct. We then take up each line in detail and calculate the dimensions and capacity of the various sewers proposed, also their probable cost of construction. By reference to the contour map it will be seen that the greatest inclination is towards the south and west. The fall is comparatively uniform and renders the collection of the city sewage at the Southwest corner of the city a simple proposition. This being accomplished the ultimate disposal of the matter is the next proposition. If it should be decided to waste the sewage then a point on the Ocean Beach at Ballona offers the natural outfall and is the line of cheapest construction; but this we would not recommend; but would advise a more expensive construction for the purpose of keeping the outfall at as high an elevation as possible consistant with a proper gradient, so that the city may be in a position at any time to supply irrigation from this source of her own sewage from or to others who will doubtless seek this means of irrigation and improving thousands of acres of land that is now comparatively worthless. This matter of disposal we treat as follows: The City Authorities should look beyond the mere disposal of the sewage matter in the cheapest and shortest way to the ocean. You have a direct interest in the welfare of the country between your city and the ocean; every dollar of wealth added to that county add to your wealth in some degree, and the application of irrigation enriched by the sewerage of a large city to the thousands of acres of land South and West, means an addition of wealth to lands which in ordinary seasons produce but indifferent crops. Any system of sewerage for this city is defective which has not for one of its principal objects the easy disposal of sewerage for irrigation, where and when needed. The added wealth to the soil through such is something wonderful, and only understood by those who have investigated the reports from a sewage farm in a county where irrigation is a necessity. We shall not here attempt to prove the sanitary reasons for advantage of purification of sewage by being brought in contact with the soil, assuming that every person nowadays is satisfied on that point from an examination of the country over which the present sewage is disposed, we are more than ever convinced that there is no necessity for any well managed sewage from being in any manner a nuisance to anyone in the vicinity, and statistics amply prove that the per cent of sickness on the farm is no greater than at points far removed.

There can be no city more favorably situated for the cheap and profitable disposition of her sewage matter; first, a country stretching to the south and west which requires irrigation; second, an abundance of water for the proper addition of the sewage, and furnishing the cheap vehicle of transporting the same. We have made a thorough examination of the adjacent country likely to require sewage, and would recommend that in the construction of sewers ample provistons be made for the delivery of sewage, first at a point on the east side of the river in the south boundary, secondly at a point on San Pedro street, where the sewage is now delivered, and thirdly at a point in the outfall sewer, to be hereafter fixed as a sewage farm. We would recommend that the city purchase a tract of land, say eight sections, 5120 acres, at some point favorably situated for the reception of sewage. This land should be purchased for one hundred dollars per acre at the most, and with sewage delivered on the ground (say at the corner of every eighty acres) would rent for $20 per acre per year. This would pay a handsome interest on the investment, over and above expenses, and create a sinking fund to pay for the original cost within ten years.

OUTFALL.

It is desirable that provision should be made for an outfall to the ocean, and after a full examination of the possible routes we recommend that shown on map furnished by Mr. Eaton. We, however, recommend that plenty of discretion be allowed for the deviation of the line, so as to avoid any obstacle that may be encountered in construction. The general direction of the line is from the south corner of the city in a southwesterly course to a point near Hyde Park on Ballona railroad, thence to a point on the shore line of the Pacific ocean about half way between Ballona Harbor and the old salt works, Redondo Beach. This line follows a generally even gradient to the base of low hills near Hyde Park. Here it will be necessary to construct a tunnel of about eleven thousand feet. On leaving the west portal of the tunnel the line crosses an elevated mesa to the base of low sand ridge, which separates the ocean beach from the mesa. This will require a tunnel about 3000 feet long. The total distance is about 11¼ miles, and the estimated cost about five hundred and thirty-one thousand nine hundred and ninety-six ($531,996) dollars.

We recommend that immediate steps be taken to procure the right of way; we condemn any proposition whereby the city would be bound to deliver the sewage to any individual or corporation for any great length of time, as we believe that a good revenue can be derived from the sale of it in the future, should you decline purchasing a farm to use it on. Water supply coupled with the sewer system the present water supply should be taken into consideration. First, it is very evident that in a short time not now, only a little area of land will be irrigated within the city boundary, consequently an immense volume of water will be at your disposal for other purposes. In view of this we would condemn any expenditure of money on the irrigation ditches by placing cement pipes in them all that is a complete waste of money the day of irrigation has passed away We would recommend that iron pipes of sufficient capacity be placed along the general course of the high level ditches, this will insure abundance of water for street sprinkling fire purposes, and on the high levels furnishing ample domestic water and finally reaching the sewers to finish flushing away cement, all of which is necessary.

The general plan of sewers as laid down on the accompaning may we recommend reserving the right of way to the constructing engines, subject to the consent of the Council, to change the final location of any part of a sewer as laid down on the map, when it is found on construction that a change to some other street would be for the benefit of the system. The outfall should receive the first attention, and next, the Central district. The extension of the Western Interceptor as far as Ninth street, would furnish an outlet for several pass without any extension north of that point. In the future, as population increased in the northwest corner of the city, the western interceptor could be extended in accordance with the proposed plan. Southern interceptor, if extended along the southern line to Alameda street, would afford relief for several years to come, provided you adopt a temporary change for the sewerage of Boyle Heights and its adjacent territory, which we recommend as follows: Cut off from Boyle Heights to connect with with Central interceptor at First street east of the river, the temporary expenditure for which will be $6750, which, added to $4500 (the cost of southern interceptor in Boyle Heights District) makes $11,250, and this sum will complete that portion for some years to come; and in the future, as population increases, the southern interceptor sewer can be extended. In accordance with proposed plan the saving of present expenditure under the above arrangement for southern interceptor would be about $47,856, and the saving of the present expenditure on western interceptor, by ending at the Ninth street interceptor, $44,073, and it may be several years before the expenditure of these sums is required.

SEWER ASSESSMENT.

Would recommend that the assessment be made $200 per front foot.

This gives a total length of Inceptors and Main street 188,700 feet or about 35¾ miles (not including the Sutfall sewer) and the average cost per foot $2.78 after the adoption of a general plan of sewers, no change should be allowed, except for grave reasons and after full examinations by the Council, who could then order a change in that particular part if necessary, for sizes of several sewers, we refer you to the annexed map, which is made a part of our report; for material we estimate on glazed burned clay pipes of best grade, similar to that in the coporate yard. Brick for the inverts of sewers to be extra fine hard burned and for remainder to be extra fine hard merchantable, all to be laid in mortar made from best English Portland cement.

The average cost of the several interceptors and branches is as follows: Western interceptor, with its several mains, average cost per foot, $2 45; the southern, with its mains, average cost per foot, $2 53; and the central interceptor, with its several mains, average cost per foot, $3.05.

The Santa Ynez Land and Improvement Company.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Santa Ynez Land and Improvement Company, which appears in another column. Mr. Sidney Lacey has just returned from a thorough inspection of this property, and his accepting the agency of this company after looking over the whole tract is a sufficient guarantee that it is a good and safe investment. The tract contains 43,000 acres, and is so diversified that sections can be made suitable for any fruits, nuts or vegetables grown in Los Angeles county, and a splendid income derived from the same in a very few years. The best olive lands in the State are located in this county, and pure mountain water in abundance will be put on the whole tract. The names of S Silverberg, of San Francisco, the President; H. J. Wiley, Vice-President (the Surveyor-General of California during Governor Stoneman's incumbency); and E. W. Steele, the Manager, gentlemen well-known throughout California for their business qualifications and success, should be a sufficient guarantee for would-be purchasers that it is a good business venture. Elaborately illustrated pamphlets and maps have been printed and can be obtained by applying to Mr. Lacey at his office, 106 N. Spring street, this city. Arrangements are made for those who may desire to make a personal inspection of the property. Those seeking homes or investments should see Mr. Lacey about this property.

TWO SERIOUS ACCIDENTS

Elegant New Day Coaches of the S. P. Co. Electric Heating Apparatus.

Yesterday Morning, Mr. Benjamin R. Crocker, Superintendent of the Pacific Improvement Company, met with a most serious accident. He came to this city day before yesterday on business, and, being a great admirer of horses, he concluded yesterday morning to take a drive, and accordingly procured a horse and buggy and started toward East Los Angeles, going up Main street. He had gotten just beyond the Southern Pacific Company's yards, on San Fernando street, when his horse shied and threw him out of the buggy. His head struck the ground rather hard and he was picked up almost, if not quite, unconscious and carried to a shop near by. Master Mechanic Kregg, of the Southern Pacific Company, an old friend of Mr Crocker, heard of the accident and hastened to the spot. When he arrived he immediately summoned Dr. Kurtz, the Southern Pacific Company's physician. This gentleman arrived soon after and held an examination, and stated that it was very doubtful whether or not Mr. Crocker could recover. It is thought his hip bone is broken and that serious internal injuries were sustained.

He was taken to the house of relatives in East Los Angeles, where everything will be done to make him as comfortable as possible.

Mr. Crocker has for the last twenty years been connected with the Southern Pacific Company and the Pacific Improvement Company. He is a man about sixty years of age, and very strong and hearty for a man of his years. He has many warm friends in this city, as well as in Sacramento, and all will be much grieved to learn of his sad accident.

A Conductor Badly Injured.

Early yesterday morning Conductor Riddelle, of the Southern Pacific Company met with a serious accident. He was in charge of freight train, No. 23, and had arrived as far as Fernando when the accident occured. At Fernando some cars were being switched, and Conductor Riddelle assisted coupling and uncoupling cars. It was while making a coupling, that the accident occurred. The morning was very foggy and the engineer could not see the signals of the conductor, though the latter was not aware of this fact and stood between the cars with the coupling-pin in his hand while the engineer backed down to him. The engineer backed so fast that he jammed both the drawheads into the cars and caught Riddelle between them, squeezing him severely. When discovered he was in a very bad condition and was brought to this city as soon as possible and taken to the Sisters' Hospital. The injuries are not thought to be fatal though the pressure upon his body was great.

Elegant New Coaches.

The Southern Pacific company is having constructed several new day coaches of a pattern that will be most highly appreciated by the patrons of the company. These coaches are equiped with elegant toilet rooms both for ladies and gentlemen. Wash basins, towels, &c, are all furnished and the traveler by day can have as much comfort in one of these coaches as the occupant of the more expensive Pullmans'. The company is also making extensive improvements in the new emigrant coaches, which are also to have seperate toilet rooms for ladies and gentlemen. The upper berths are arranged nearly similar to those in a Pullman car, being made tight and comfortable.

Heated By Electricity.

The Santa Fe's new passenger coaches, now being built, are fitted out with steam heating apparatus, storage batteries for lighting the cars by electricity and electric signal bells All coaches in the future will be equipped in a simular way, and stoves, lamps, etc. will be entirely dispursed with. This move of the Santa Fe will more than likely be imitated by the Southern Pacific Company immediately.

Railroad Notes.

When the new A. T & S. F. time table goes into effect, Chapman will be made a flag station.

The A. T. & S. F. Company is preparing to issue a new time table that will go into effect January first.

Ninety car loads of furniture has just been delivered by the Santa Fe Company to the Coronada Beach Hotel people at San Diego.

A special train of ten cars left Barstow yesterday at noon for this city. At 3 P. M., yesterday's overland, with seventeen cars, was reported six hours late.

Mr. H. B. Wilkens says there is not a pound of delayed freight on the Atlantic & Pacific Company's road, and that the late blockade has been entirely raised.

A large of men began grading on the Long Branch, Whittier and Los Angeles Railroad yesterday morning at a point near Downey, on the Anaheim branch of the Southern Pacific Company.

Elegant new coaches for the Los Angeles County Railroad were received by the Southern Pacific Company yesterday forenoon. They are similar to the ordinary day-coach used on all railroads.

Excursion Notes.

Dennis' excursion party, consisting of two special cars, left Omaha on the 17th for this city. They will arrive to-morrow night.

George L. Cotteral & Co's excursion from the East, with about fifty people, will arrive some time to-day. Mr. Cotteral himself is in charge of the party.

Railroad Personals.

Mr. Herman Silver, Treasurer of the Santa Fe Company, left for San Bernardino yesterday afternoon.

Mr. H. B. Wilkens, General Freight and Passenger Agent of the C. C. and S. C. railroads, arrived in this city yesterday forenoon.

You will never have a sour stomach if you use Damiana Bitters.

CHARGED WITH LIBEL.

G. Wiley Wells Arrested at Barstow Last Night.

Yesterday morning the following complaint was filed in Justice Taney's Court and a warrant issued for the arrest of G. Wiley Wells:

In the Justice Court of Los Angeles County, State of California. The People of the State of California, plaintiff, against G. Wiley Wells, defendant.

Personally appeared before me this 19th day of December, 1887, C. A. Bell, of the county of Los Angeles, and State of California, who, having first been duly sworn, complains and says that one G. Wiley Wells, of the county of Los Angeles, aforesaid, on or about the 23d day of February, 1887, at the city and county of Los Angeles, State of California, did commit the crime of libel, committed as follows: "At the said time and at the said place, the said G. Wiley Wells contriving and unlawfully and maliciously intending to injure, vilify, libel and prejudice and deprive of his good name, fame, credit and reputation, one Horace Bell, and bring him into great contempt, scandal and disgrace, and thereby expose him to public hatred and ridicule, did unlawfully and maliciously publish a false, scandalous and defamatory libel in the form a secret, anonymous printed circular, called and designated 'The Life of Horace Bell,' the said circular then and there containing certain false and defamatory matter, of and concerning him, of Horace Bell, according to the tenor and defect following, to-wit:

"So violent at one time was Bell's abuse of his present wife that she was committed to the Stockton Asylum for a while."

All of which is contrary to the form of the statute in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the State of California.

Said complainant therefore prays that a warrant be issued for the arrest of Wiley Wells and that he be dealt with according to law.

(Signed) C. A. BELL.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 19th day of December, 1887.

B. F. TANEY,
Justice of the Peace of Los Angeles Township.

Yesterday morning before the warrant was served, Mr. Wells started on a trip to Washington, but the warrant was placed in the hands of Chief of Police Darcy who telegraphed for his arrest. A telegram was received last night from Barstow, stating that Mr. Wells had been arrested at that point.

Officer Van Luven will leave this morning at 7 A. M. for Barstow, where he will take Col G. W. Wells under his protection and bring him to Los Angeles.

A New Company.

A large number of persons were present at the mustering in of the new company at Armory Hall last night. Much interest and enthusiasm was manifested by both spectators and members. The organization of this company, "F," completes the regimental organization of California. The following officers were elected; Major, Jas. E. Hughes; Captain, H. B. Sullivan; First Lieutenant, Jos. G. Scarbough.

TO CALIFORNIA OR EASTERN CAPITLAISTS!
A Safe and Profitable Investment!
CONTROLLING INTERST IN THE California Jute Mill Co.
FOR SALE!
THE CALIFORNIA JUTE MILL Company is an incorporation with a capital of $240,000, in 12,000 shares of $20 each, of which $18.50 per share or $222,000 has been paid up.
Its works are situated at CLINTON STATION, East Oakland, Alameda County, and cover an entire block of land. It machinery is of the most perfect character, comprising over 130 looms with more than ample spinning facilities, coarse system, splendid boilers and the finest engine room in the State. It gives regular employment to from 380 to 400 hands, and when employed on grain bags alone can turn out over 4,000,000, annually at a cost of less than than 5 cents per bag at the mill. The trend of present legislation is to admit raw material free of duty. If this is followed the cost of manufacture will be considerably reduced
The mill is in perfect running order, amply supplied with spare furnishings, and has the further great advantage of having as superintendent one of the most skillful and economical jute-workers of the day. It also has a thoroughly organized and skilled body of help, educated and broken in at a cost of many thousands of dollars.
It is no exageration to say that a similar mill could not be started under a cost of $350,000.
Large contracts are in hand for next year's deliveries at very remunerative rates and there is no reason why profits for 1888 should not run from $50,000 to $65,000; possibly considerably over.
Owing to ill-health and other heavy engagements the owner is reluctantly compelled to sell and will do so at a moderate discount.

HESPERIA.

The Denver of California!

HESPERIA is located in San Bernardino County, on the main line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, and about 25 miles north of San Bernardino. The situation is most beautiful, the town being in the Hesperia Valley, surrounded by the San Bernardino Mountains on the south and the Hesperia Mountains on the north. The Valley is about 3000 feet above the level of the sea.

There is a great abundance of the finest quality of water. The Company has already spent upwards of $200,000, in perfecting its waterworks. Water is brought from a pure mountain stream eleven miles away, being conducted in a large canal cut through the rock in the mountain side and through seven miles of steel and iron pipes to the town There is water enough to meet all requirements for a large city and for 100,000 of acres of land beside. Lands have been set apart for the benefit of a school fund, and a schoolhouse is to be commenced at once. The company offers generous inducements for the building of churches. A complete system of sewerage has been begun. Capital for a bank has been fully subscribed. Work is to be at once begun upon many substantial residences and business blocks Gas and electric light plants are to be put in by the company, A horsecar line and motor railway will be built by the company to run through the tract. A neat and attractive station is to be built. Beautiful parks and boulevards will be laid out. The principal business and residence streets will be paved, and cement sidewalks will be laid. A first-class weekly paper will be published at Hesperia, the initial number to appear early in December. All that intelligence, energy and capital can do to build up a town will be done for Hesperia. Hesperia combines the altitude scenery and commercial advantages of Denver, with the climate and soil of the best portions of Southern California. The development of water in this great valley marks a new era in the progress and growth of Southern California—extending its productions and planting a city whose future will be second to none in this part of the State. It will pay anyone to investigate the above statements of simple fact.

President Humphreys then asked Mayor Workman to come forward and read his annual message, which was as follows:

The Mayor's Message.

GENTLEMEN OF THE CITY COUNCIL: Another year has passed into eternity, and the time has again arrived for us to take a retrospective view of the municipal year, and, by the light of experience, to make suggestions for the future. An unexampled era of prosperity has been vouchsafed our fair city, and we all have much cause for gratulation. Many changes have taken place since I delivered my first message, and vast are the improvements which have been made. As to the acts of my administration, the people are the best judges. While my whole time has been devoted to municipal matters and the past Council has labored faithfully, I feel that many things have been left undone, to which I shall call your attention in the course of this brief document. I have endeavored to the best of my ability to serve the city I so much love, and in the main my efforts have been strengthened and my objects furthered by the late Council and the officers of the city.

To Mr. L. N. Breed, President of the Council, and to Mr. Freeman G. Teed, the efficient City Auditor, my thanks are due for the able manner in which they assisted me during the past year. In your Honorable Body I see nine new members, but most of you being old residents and all thoroughly conversant with the needs of the city, a just and wise administration is looked for by the people. You will find your task not an easy one, and it will be purely a "labor of love," but I feel sure that in your election the confidence of the public has not been misplaced.

In this age of progress it is better to act rather than to talk, and, with your permission, I will give a brief resume and touch upon a few subjects which are worthy of the attention of the Council, and to which the members should give heed.

STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

There is no matter of such importance to a city as its streets and highways. It is extremely gratifying to note that during the past year much work has been done in the way of grading, paving and opening of streets, and I sincerely trust that your Honorable body may emulate your predecessors in this respect. Contracts have been made for paving Main street from Alameda to Ninth, and Spring street from Temple to Ninth, and the work is well under way. Owing to want of material, particularly cement, the work has not progressed as rapidly as could be desired. Such as has been completed, however, is very satisfactory especially the portion paved with bituminous rock. In all paving to be ordered in the future, I would recommend that bituminous rock be used. I would recommend that First street be paved with bituminous rock on a concrete foundation 9 inches thick from Fort street to the Los Angeles River. That second and Third streets be paved from Fort street to Los Angeles. That Requena street be paved from Main to Los Angeles. That Commercial street be paved from Main to Alameda, and that Arcadia street be paved. I would recommend that on all streets where the traffic is heavy a concrete foundation 9 inches thick be used.

During the year more streets have been graded and opened than in the whole past history of the city, and this good work should be continued. We will now have to proceed under the Vrooman Act, but as the opening or grading of a street very much enhances the value of adjoining property, holders should be willing to pay the increased assessment.

In the improvement of approaches and main avenues leading to the city, we should assist from the City Treasury. We should take a pride in having smooth, level drives, and in this connection I would particularly recommend that we lend every assistance to the proposed boulevard between this city and Santa Monica.

OPENING OF STREETS.

During the past year the work of opening and widening streets has steadily progressed. The City Attorney assures me that all obstruction to the opening of Los Angeles street have been removed and all differences adjusted, and when the remaining assessments, which were inconsiderable, have been paid, this important thoroughfare will be opened—possibly within one month. Main street, formerly Bath street, has been opened to the Kurhts street bridge, and is in good order. Ninth street has been opened to the eastern city limits. First street has been widened from Alameda street to the river, and I would urge upon your honorable body to use every endeavor to have this street widened from Main street to Alameda street.

STREET SPRINKLING.

The question of street sprinkling is a very important one. Nothing is so calculated to impress the visitor or to conduce to the comfort and health of the citizens as well sprinkled streets. I am glad to state that for the past six months the street sprinkling service has been, in the main, satisfactory In letting a new contract I would suggest that the contractor be required to procure new and first-class outfits, and to employ drivers of average intelligence. It might be a good idea for the city in the future to own the street sprinkling apparatus.

BRIDGES.

The fact of the Los Angeles river winding its silvery way through our city makes the question of bridges worthy of attention.

I would recommend that in conjunction with the Los Angeles Cable Road Company, the city build a substantial and enduring bridge structure at Downey avenue. The present bridge at that point is entirely inadequate for the wants of travel in that direction.

The Santa Fe Railroad Company and the Los Angeles Cable Road Company agree to join the city in building a viaduct or elevated roadway across the river at First street, the city to pay one-third of the cost; or the companies will build to the river if the city will complete it. As to this step would relieve people from all apprehension of danger from the many locomotives constantly passing and repassing at this point, and also obviate the chance of travel being impeded by floods, I would strongly recommend that your honorable body join the above companies in this enterprise.

I would also recommend that bridges be built at Seventh and Ninth streets. The district has been subdivided and is becoming rapidly populated, and a necessity exists for these bridges

SEWERS.

Los Angeles has outgrown her present sewer system. The question of properly sewering the city is one of vital importance and should receive your earnest and immediate attention.

I would call your attention to the plan and estimates submitted by City Surveyor Eaton and endorsed, with slight modifications, by a board of resident engineers. Should this plan be approved by your honorable body the right of way should be procured forthwith as the first step and the work prosecuted without unnecessary delay.

LEVEES.

The people residing on the west side of the river are now almost entirely relieved from danger of floods by the construction by the Santa Fe Company, with the aid of the city of a substantial levee, and I trust that, before the floods come, the levee will be completely finished.

The construction of the levee on the east side is progressing favorably, and I would recommend that the city assist the property holders in its completion. There is a strong probability of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles Road being built down the east side of the river, and in that case, every dollar expended by the city will be repaid to the Treasury by the railroad company. The building of the levee on the west side has rendered more precarious the condition of property on the east side and the matter should receive your attention.

PARKS.

During the past year there has been a marked improvement in the appearance of our City Parks, and this is as it should be. Nothing tends to beautify a city so much as well-arranged and nicely kept parks, and in this climate where vegetation is so luxuriant and so varied, we should have the most magnificent parks in the world. I sincerely trust that some new member will emulate the example of Mr. Breed, late Chairman of the Committee on Parks, and continue the splendid work inaugurated by that gentleman.

There has been much work done on the Sixth street, Plaza and East Los Angeles Parks and the results show that labor and labor well expended. I would recommend that steps be taken to improve and beautify the Seventh street, Elysian and Prospect Parks.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

This is one of the most difficult departments of the City Government to deal with and keep pure. It is constantly under suspicion, and while occasionally these suspicions are unwarranted, more frequently they are well grounded in fact.

The temptation offered by evil doers to the policeman are numerous and alluring, and in too many cases does the public officer succumb. The bribe takers and incompetents must be weeded out of the force and trusty men put in their places. Certainly a man is not known until he is tried; but when an appointed officer falls under the ban of suspicion, there should be a careful investigation of his case, and if the suspicions are well founded, no delay should transpire in relieving the recreant appointee of his star. It should be the duty of the Chief whom you gentlemen select to ascertain as nearly as possible the antecedents of every applicant for a position on the force, and no doubtful man should be allowed to don a uniform and star. This branch of the City Government is brought more prominently before the people than any other, and you gentlemen should see to it that a true man is elected Chief in order that no reproach shall be cast upon the pure city government, which I know is the desire of us all to give during the coming year. I desire to call the attention of your body to the necessity existing in the city for a detective force to act in conjunction with the Police Department. This force need not at present consist of more than two or three good resident detectives, but it should be established and its good effects will become apparent.

CITY HALL.

The contract for the building of the new City Hall on Fort street between Second and Third streets has been let to Mr. John Hanlon, at a cost of $208,800. This will be an imposing and beautiful structure, an ornament and credit to the city, and will also save a considerable sum each year, which is now paid as rental for city offices. It is to be hoped that your Building Committee will pay particular attention to this structure.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

This branch of the City Government is in good working order, and by the addition of a new engine which has been ordered by the Council, will be considerably strengthened. There have been several disastrous fires of late, but the dire results of these conflagrations cannot be attributed to the Fire Department but to the lack of water supply. The mains of the City Water Company are too small to carry an adequate supply of water for use at fires of magnitude, and I also understand that, on several occasions, when the engines have been connected with the hydrants, it was found that the water had been shut off and the firemen were for a time rendered powerless. This is an evil which should be remedied, and the Council should carefully investigate the matter. The City Water Company is at present laying a 22-inch main down Buena Vista street, which will have the effect of increasing the supply of water. I would recommend a material increase in the number of fire hydrants, as the present number is insufficient for the needs of this city. The Richmond Fire Alarm System has proved far from satisfactory, but the Company has entered into a new contract agreeing to put in the latest improvements and better results are looked for. If the system does not work better and is not acceptable, the city will dispense with it, and make other arrangements and the Treasury will not suffer in the least.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

This is a question, the vast importance of which you are all aware. It can truthfully be said that the system of free education is being conducted successfully and properly in this city, but there is a woeful lack of accommodation for the rapidly increasing population. It is well known that the city has voted bonds for the erection of new school houses and for the furtherance of education in our midst, but there seems to be entertained in some minds a question of the legality of these bonds. Several good lawyers of this city and the Attorney General of the State have declared the bonds perfectly legal, and there seems to be no reason why they should not be readily sold. More school houses and school rooms are a positive necessity, and every effort in that direction should be made by your body. There should also be a greater number of teachers and the salaries of those engaged in the laudable pursuit of instructing the future generation should be increased. We have an excellent and careful Board of Education, and suggestions emanating from it should be carefully weighed by the Council and all possible assistance rendered,

CITY WATER.

We are blessed with an abundance of water in Los Angeles, but the condition of some of it when it comes to the houses for domestic use is the reverse of tempting. I would recommend that the various water companies adopt, as the Citizens' Water Company is doing, a system of filtration. I would also recommend the piping of the water belonging to the city as much as possible. The necessity of irrigation within the city limits does not now exist to any great extent, as most of the vineyards and orchards have been sub-divided and made into residence sites for our rapidly increasing population. We have water enough now without any further development to supply a city of over a million of people, if it is properly handled.

FIRST STREET HILL.

I would recommend that steps be taken by your body to have the grade of First street established west of Fort, and the street graded and cut through the hill, which now effectually blocks up the street.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.

As we will now have to proceed in the matter of opening and grading streets under the Vrooman act, and the work of the superintendent of Streets will be more than double, I would recommend that you create by resolution the office of Assistant to the Street Superintendent. It will be impossible for the Superintendent to do both the outdoor and clerical work of the office, and an assistant is imperatively necessary.

SALOON RESTRICTION.

Beyond a doubt, there exists in this city at the present time a class of drinking places detrimental alike to good morals and to those engaged in the legitimate liquor trade. High license has had a good effect in that it has increased the revenue of the city to a considerable extent, and while it should not be disturbed, it has not had the effect of ridding the city of the low dives and dens. The Police Commission, of which I am a member, must, and I know will, scrutinize carefully every applicant for a license, and reject those which are found to be presented by persons of doubtful reputation. In my opinion the licenses of those whose houses prove to be disorderly should not alone be revoked, but every saloonkeeper who knowingly sells liquor to minors or to drunken men should be dispossessed of his license and his place closed up. I believe that the better class of men engaged in the business of liquor selling desire to see proper restrictions thrown around their business, feeling that they cannot but be benefitted thereby.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

For the financial condition of the city, I would refer you to the Auditor's report, which will be presented in a few days. I will merely remark that during the year the receipts were $1,324,101.96, and the expenditure $932,430 24, leaving a balance of $382,221 70, and this, added to the amount remaining in the treasury at the first of the year, gives us $674,811.41 in the city funds. This is an eminently satisfactory showing.

In conclusion, gentlemen, let me urge upon you the necessity of the utmost harmonious action. It is imperative that we act together in all things in order to give the good government which is the desire of us all. I feel that in honoring you gentlemen, the people have placed the interests of the city in faithful, willing and earnest hands. In the election of officers, I would urge you to apply the Jeffersonian test—Is he honest? Is he capable? By making a proper start at the beginning of your term and by all pulling together in harmony, the result cannot be doubtful, and your administration will be alike beneficial to the city and an honor and credit to yourselves. A Council office is a public trust, and we should so consider it. And now gentlemen, we are prepared to enter upon our duties and do the best work in our power for the people of the whole city. I thank you for your kind attention.

Mr. Collins moved that the message be received and spread on the minutes, and that its different parts be referred to the newly-appointed committees. Adopted,

The report of the special committee on the sewer plans was referred to the Sewer Committee. The report favored the adoption of the plans as presented by City Surveyor Eaton with the exception of a few changes.

The Chief of Police reported the collection of $169.60 delinquent licenses in November. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Superintendent of Streets reported the expenditure of $674.50 during the past week. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Collins gave notice that at the next meeting of the Council he would move to repeal the hitching ordinance.

Mr. Sinsabaugh moved that the Councilmen draw lots for seats in the Council. Adopted.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Mr. Lovell moved that the Council proceed to elect a City Clerk; seconded by Mr. Cuddy. Carried.

Dr. Sinsabaugh nominated Freeman G. Teed; seconded by Captain Barret. There being no other nominations, on motion of Mr. Cuddy, President Humphreys cast the ballot, and declared Freeman G. Teed the City Clerk and City Auditor for the ensueing year.

Capt Barrett moved that the Council proceed to elect a City Surveyor. Carried.

Mr. Hanley nominated Mr. W. T. Lambie. Seconded by Mr. Teed.

The nominations were then closed, and the Clerk of the Council cast the ballot.

President Humphreys announced the result.

Mr. Cuddy suggested that Mr. Lambie be requested to investigate and become acquainted with the duties of his office.

Mr. Cuddy moved that the City Surveyor report the cost of a zanja 6-1, from Macy street to Georgia street, at the next meeting of the Council. Carried.

Captain Barrett moved that action on the election of other officers be deferred. Carried.

Mr. Stearns invited the Council to visit his mill and witness the operation of his electric light plant. Accepted.

The Finance Committee recommended that $1445 be transferred from the Cash to the Ninth street fund. Adopted.

THE GEM OF THE CONTINENT!

REDONDO BEACH,

SIXTEEN MILES SOUTHWEST OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES, IS, WITHOUT DOUBT; THE FINEST PLACE ON THE CONTINENT FOR A SEASIDE RESORT, AND THE enterprising company is doing all that ample means and broad ideas suggest to fully realize the grand result that nature has made possible. Two miles of water front, aligned like a half-moon bay, of which the northern horn is occupied by a remarkable fine pebble beach: the southern part by the very best bathing beach anywhere to be enjoyed; while the middle portion is an abrupt shingled shore, bordering water so deep that the largest ships may lie free from ground swell within a stone's throw of land. Rising behind this frontage a peculiarly beautiful rolling land is backed by low but commanding hills, something less than a mile from shore and in am hitheatre form, so that the place is a panorama unto itself from every point of view. The higher grounds look back upon the city of Los Angeles and the Sierra Madre Range, and the ocean view in the opposite direction is set between rocky headlands that hold it as in a frame. A salt spring lake, half a mile in length, whose waters are much more dense than those of the sea, presents opportunities for quiet boating and peculiarly healthful bathing not paralleled at other places. The soils are remarkably fertile; the fresh water supply, to be piped throughout the tract, is pure and abundant, and the sub-soils are open and absorptive. So that beautifying of grounds is of easy accomplishment, and the healthfulness of the place is assured.

A hotel of the most ample dimensions, picturesque effects and perfect appointments, is to be built adjoining the beach, on a site terraced to the water-front promenade, and flanked by a park which extends to the bathing beach on one hand and on the other to the IRON PIER, costing over $100,000, reaching into deep water and arranged for landing of boats of every description, from the mosquito yacht to the trans-ocean clipper.

THE CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY.—Grounds for the accommodation of the Chautauqua Assembly of Southern California have been set aside, and here the management are about to build an amphitheatre and other permanent structures.

THE OUTLOOK.—The rapid development of REDONDO BEACH, as a place of local pleasure resort and health-giving homes, and as a tourist's objective point from far and near, is now assured. Its deep-water facilities, protected frontage, railway approachability and fine back country insure its future importance as a commercial point. It is a most remarkable place, in that it really admits of a combination of pleasure with business, as an examination will prove to any one of judgement. ☞ For particulars call or address

NEWS NOTES.

County taxes will be delinquent on the 27th inst.

Transfers of real estate yesterday amounted to $154,016, and were 131 in number. Of these, 44 were for a nominal consideration.

The street pavers have broken the ground between Second and Third streets, on Spring, to prepare for the Bituminous rock which is to be placed there.

The Olive street Car Company yesterday commenced to lay double tracks on Spring street, between First and Second streets. This will be done before the paving is commenced.

The County tax levy amounted to $1,200 000. Of this, $600,000 has been collected, but there remains less than a week to pay the balance. Taxes become delinquent on the 27th instant.

The Board of Freeholders will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Council Chambers. All members of the Board are requested to procure their certificates of election from City Clerk Teed.

There was no performance at the Grand Opera House last night, owing to the inability of Mr. O'Neill and company to arrive in time. Monte Cristo will open to-night to an enormous house.

On Friday evening the Campanini Concert Company will sing in San Bernardino. The first concert will take place here to-night, and the sale of seats is such that a crowded house is certain.

The diamond lace pin advertised as lost in Sunday's paper, has been returned by a gentleman who said he took it from a dog who was carrying it off. The gentleman refused to accept the reward offered or to give his name.

To-day is the day for the payment of the first assessment of 10 per cent. on the stock of the "Main and Tenth Street Hotel Company." The directors are desirous of pushing the work, and stockholders are requested to pay up promptly to the Treasurer at the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank.

The Webster-Brady Company had a good audience to witness their efforts when the curtain went up on the third representation of the Lights o' London last night. There will be no change of programme until the end of the week when the much-vaunted She will take possession of the boards.

Major Ben C. Truman arrived in the city on Sunday on a short visit, and departed for the north yesterday. He came direct from the East, and reports the whole population as preparing to come to Los Angeles.

Dr. H. W. Lewis, of Boston, Mass., is visiting his friends at Los Angeles and Southern California. The Doctor is making an extended trip for the benefit of his health, which has become somewhat impaired on account of his attending closely to the arduous duties of his profession.

Miss Georgie Truman, one of the 23 California girls at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass., played at a recital at that place on the 2d instant, and the little Los Angeles Miss received an encore her number being a piece composed for and dedicated to Miss Georgie by Mr. F. A. Porter, one of the teachers at the Conservatory. There are two other Los Angeles girls at the Conservatory, and also one from Pasadena and one from Riverside.

PLACER EXHIBIT.

A Large Display by Enterprising People.

The exhibition of citrus fruits by representatives of Placer County was opened to the public last night and certainly, for tastefulness, reflects credit on its management, Messrs. E. W. Maslin, J. I. Morrison, P. W. Butler, W. B. Gardner, J. F. Madden, Dr. H. Clark, R. Jones, Dana Perkins and Mr. White. The display consists of oranges, lemons, olives, Japanese, persimmons, pomegranates, apples, raisins, Chinese dates, quinces, olive oil, walnuts, almonds, plums, and cotton. Arranged in the present form the display is attracting some attention but nearly all of the visitors were aware that citrus fruits could be grown to some extent in northern countries. Those who are familiar with the subject say that there are to be found in Placer County a few pockets or sheltered spots where the sun strikes just right in which oranges, etc. will grow quite well. These pockets however, cover a very small area and to state that the whole county can be adopted to this branch of fruit culture is considered misleading. The exhibit is quite extensive, and it is alleged that the whole orange crop of the county is now in Los Angeles.

THE BRUSSELS EXHIBITION.

Directions for Those Desiring to Participate.

With reference to the International Exhibition at Brussels commencing on May 3, 1888, and full particulars regarding which were published in Sunday morning's HERALD, M. Emile Quarre, the well-known jeweler, of 211 South Spring street, has been appointed representative for Southern California. He called at this office last night and exhibited his credentials, which authorize him to make all arrangements concerning the forwarding from this district of exhibits, and wishes it to be stated that anyone desiring to be represented there will confer a favor by calling on him at his place of business mentioned above. It is a splendid opportunity to show to the world what Southern California can produce, as the eyes of Christendom will be attracted to the display which, for diversity of attractions, promises to vie with any exhibition hitherto held. It is necessary that all wishing to forward specimens of industry, samples of wines, raisins or any other productions, should communicate with M. Quarre at as early a date as possible, as all applications for space must be made by January 15th, and he is anxious to secure a good location for Southern California.

ASSAULTED.

Two Ladies Frightened by a Bold Ruffian.

Roughs and thieves are becoming very thick in this community, and even ladies are not safe from their attempts to rob or their insults. Last night, about half-past 7 o'clock, two ladies who were going down Ninth street, between Olive and Hill streets, were stopped by a fellow, who answers the following description: Medium height, weight about 150 pounds, light pants, dark fall overcoat, derby hat and a mustache. As the ladies approached, he went up to the smaller of the two and attempted to rob her, taking hold of her violently. She threw off his hands and passed quickly on. Both ladies were frightened and hurried on, followed by the fellow, who overtook them just in front of No. 743 Hill street, where he caught hold of both of the ladies, who shrieked and attracted the attention of a gentleman residing at that number. The bold ruffian let go of the ladies and ran off just as this gentleman appeared, and despite a chase is still uncaptured. The friends of the ladies are looking for the ruffian with a horsewhip.

James O'Neill.

Mr. James O'Neill will give his magnificent production of Monte Cristo to-night for the first time in Los Angeles. Mr. O'Neill's career as a star dates from 18-0 when he began playing in A Celebrated Case. Next followed An American King, and then his present success, Monte Cristo, in which he has gained a splendid reputation. This is the fifth season of the play, and it still retains its wonderful drawing powers. Mr. O'Neill owns the play, and his friends will also be glad to learn that their young favorite is making a financial success out of this wonderful melodrama. He has already bought a $40,000 residence at New London, Conn., and is joint owner with Nate Salsbury and a few others of a cattle ranch in Montana, worth nearly a million dollars. A few days ago he bought a large business building in Kansas City for $75,000. He is also interested in a syndicate at Burmingham, Ala., and in other cities.

CATARRH!

Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption,

Together with Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Heart Successfully Treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D. M. C. P. S. O.

275 N. MAIN STREET,

A few doors south of the New Post Office, Los Angeles, Cal.

Consumption can be cured. This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by DR. WILLIAMS, with his new system of medicated inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

CATARRH.

To those who are afflicted with any of the different forms of Catarrh, we would say, there is no disease which presents a greater diversity of symptoms, none more loathsome, insidious, and dangerous as Nasal Catarrh, especially if complicated as it almost always is, even from its first appearance, with an affection of the throat.

From the earliest symptoms (which are generally attributed to a "cold in the head") to the various ugly and distressing stages through which the disease passes the patient is hopeful of recovery, and rarely gives it proper attention until certain alarming symptoms present themselves, denoting unmistakably the rapid advance of the malady to the lungs. Indeed, so various are the symptoms that the presence of the disease is not always known, or even suspected, until it has reached a stage difficult to arrest. The disease may or may not be attended by a discharge from the nostrils or throat; but there is usually present a morbid secretion and a frequent disposition (especially in the morning) to clear the throat, and the effort to do so is often, though not always, attended by expectoration; there is a sensation of weariness in the frontal part of the head, and the brain sometimes suffers to an extent producing headache, vertigo and confusion; it becomes difficult to think clearly and to concentrate the mind; the memory becomes impaired and the intellect enfeebled; despondency of spirits and an excitable condition of the nervous system. Such is the effect of the disease, and if to this train of symptoms (which not infrequently leads to insanity or idiocy) we add many of the more loathsome physical effects, as caries, or rottenness of the bones of the face and head, a most offensive smell to the breath, and corrupt, morbid and poisonous secretions, destruction or serious injury to the sense of smell, hearing, sight and taste, we have a catalogue of horrors which would lead any person to make early and proper efforts to eradicate the disease from the system. Every case of Catarrh is curable if properly treated.

BRONCHITIS.

Acute Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved, giving rise to what is very properly called Bronchial Consumption. In the acute form there is a sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, severe cough and expectoration. This is at first a white glary mucous, which after a time becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed, the oppression across the chest is so great; the skin is clammy and prostration rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the bronchial tubes. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

In the later stage of the disease the mucous membrane of the larger bronchial tubes softens, while in the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucous membrane becomes congested and inflamed. There are no cavities nor tubercle in the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucous which accummulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Oftentimes streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucous, and at times there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus afflicted are very liable to take a cold, at which time the mucous becomes clear and frothy, and it is not uncommonly the case that the patient dies in one of these attacks.

CONSUMPTION.

From consumers, "to waste away," usually applied to the advanced stage of lung disease.

The following are prominent symptoms in the first stage, and wherever any of them exist a thorough examination should be made with a view to arresting the disease if shown to exist: There is usually a sense of weariness upon a little exercise, a disposition to remain passive and idle, despondency, often from no apparent cause, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effect of cold, and a breathlessness on moving quickly or descending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough, with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, flying pains across the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night, slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet or hands, or in many cases blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.—Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address
